TODAY'S STOCK QUOTATIONS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market maintained its early morning uneasiness and was down during light trading today. Industrials were generally lower. Utilities took the worst falls, with B.C. Power, Northern Ontario Natural Gas, CPR, Galtineau Power and Bell Telephone all down in the 1/4 to 1/2 range.

Trading in liquors was poor with Distillers Seagrams, Canadian Breweries and Corby's all down. One notable aspect was the 1 1/2-point jump by John Labatt to 40 1/2 on news that shareholders will be asked to approve a three-for-one split at the company's annual meeting Aug. 25.

On index, Industrials rose .01 to 579.83, golds 19 to 84.25, base metals 25 to 196.60 and western oils fell 46 to 90.42. The 11 a.m. volume was 398,000 shares compared with 468,000 at the same time yesterday.

Public "Gets Suspicious" On Industry's Practices

MONTREAL (CP) — Industry placency on the part of industry which seems to feel there is no need for it to account to the public or otherwise explains its philosophy of its problems or to demonstrate in some concrete way that free enterprise is operating under conditions of full competition," he said.

Not all cases of apparent price-fixing or market monopoly were illegal. But they needed some explanation to the public, nevertheless.

In other cases, he said, the lack of a combines inquiry is no proof that no illegalities are involved. Often there was not enough evidence available to make criminal charges stand up in court.

FEEL SECURE

"There is a surprising com-

He cited the recent case of an increase in retail gasoline prices as an example of the type of incident which makes people suspect criminal collusion. One leading oil company raised its prices and some competitors quickly followed suit.

One oil firm spokesman had explained its increase as merely being competitive "but he declined to say why 'being competitive' necessarily meant raising prices."

WANTS BETTER ANSWER

"I think the public deserved a better explanation than that and I would like to think that the price followers have a better one," he added.

Often there were market forces which, in the long run, bring about a reasonable uniform price level for an identical product.

"But this does not fully explain price adjustments and pricing policies among competitors that take effect on identical days or according to an apparently artificial pattern," Mr. Henry said.

Industry is harming itself, he warned, by ignoring increasing public concern in this field. It could lead to strong pressures for expanded inquiries under the Combines Investigation Act with resultant publicity about "the most confidential activities in particular industries and businesses."

Judge, Not Arbitration Urged In Expropriation

VANCOUVER (CP) — A recommendation that land expropriation cases be decided by a Supreme Court judge rather than by arbitration was made Monday by the B.C. Electric Company.

In a brief to J. V. Clyne's one-man royal commission into expropriation laws, the BCE disagreed with a provincial highways department brief that a permanent arbitration board be established.

"Members of such a board presumably would be appointed by the provincial government of the day and might be criticized as being political appointees," the BCE brief said.

The company said that with the increasing frequency and importance of expropriation matters, it would be desirable to have the ruling of judges who had experience and traditional impartiality.

Old Style WATER

It, too, has distinction!

The clear, sparkling water of British Columbia is a brewing ingredient unequalled in Canada. Our original recipe calls distinctly for this pure mountain water. Blended in our brewing kettle with hops and barley, its goodness comes to life. Then, finally, in our ageing cellars the brew slowly matures into the brilliant golden colour and the supreme flavour that is Old Style. Fortunately, this traditional manner of brewing does not go unnoticed — as evidenced by the many people who prefer Old Style.

Aquacade drew hundreds of spectators and many swimmers, not least amongst them being under 12 years old and eligible to enter the balloon

Union's Wants Explained

The Courier was told by Mr. O'Keefe that the majority report specified $3.05 per hour for a journeyman lineman and the minority report, $3.09.

In effect, the union wanted its linemen to be paid $3.05 up until the end of June, and $3.09 from July 1 to Dec. 31.

At this point in the meeting, the union officials asked for a five minute recess, to which Ald. Treadgold replied, "The whole thing makes me feel like throwing up."

He and Ald. Winters then stalked from the business agent O'Keefe. The strike vote was held three hours later at the city warehouse and lasted only 20 minutes.

CITY'S STAND

In an interview a few minutes following the strike vote, department from civic of pressed satisfaction with the vote, but disappointment with the city's stand.

"We are disappointed with the city's attitude," he said, "because we expected better meeting which was adjourned. He was referring to the aldermen stalking from the meeting."

He then went on to say that all local 213 was asking for the

Should a strike come about the city would be left without the services of its two meter readers, one foreman, two journeymen electricians, three linemen, a groundman, and a truck driver. Maintenance of city power lines, etc., could not be carried out.

COMMONWEALTH CASTING WILL BE DONE IN KELOWNA

Commonwealth Productions have requested use of Chamber of Commerce space for use by representative Mrs. F. Jones for acting purposes. Mrs. Jones lives across Okanagan Lake, in an inconvenient location for holding wholesale casting. Commonwealth recently chose Kelowna for outdoor "shooting".

No indication of what the casting might be for, or when, was given. It is believed use of the office might be needed for a week to 10 days.

Chamber president R. H. Wilson said co-operation would be given when possible. Regatta preparations take up space and would present problems at this time. However, offer of use after Regatta will be made.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

TICKETS ON SALE

Regatta secretary Fred J. Heatley announced that reserved tickets for all evening grandstand shows for the 1961 Regatta are now on sale at Regatta Headquarters, Mill Street. There has been a fairly heavy demand for reserved seats for this year's show and while there are plenty of seats available, it has been suggested early reservations are wise. Regatta Headquarters is open daily 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to handle ticket sales.

AUSIE IN TOWN

Australian's marketing officer, Watson C. Turner, visits Kelowna July 25, Chamber of Commerce learns. A letter from Duncan R. McPhee, Australian Government Trade Commissioner, informed of the one-day visit. Chamber will forward the information to B.C. Tree Fruits.

TRACK AND FIELD

Included in proposed improvements to school lands in Kelowna is the possible building of a track for Kelowna Senior and Junior High schools. Secretary of the school board, Fred Macklin, said showings by these schools in track meets this year reflect the need because they were poor. A grade by grade plan that will give new tracksters each year is needed, and would stop the hit and miss character of local schools wins in meets. He feels use of City Park oval is detrimental because the trip from schools takes up 15 of a 40-minute physical education period.

CLEAN CITY

City work crews short weeks ago were working fast in an effort to spruce up our city for the summer season. These days seem to tourists and natives alike. Appearances all forer display and inconvenience caused. Stains of a winter seige have been erased by spring cleaning, and the result is summer cleanliness. The junk and debris of an affluent civilization gorging on hot dogs, hamburgs, popples, bars, all of which have wrappings, may still be found, despite valiant efforts of cleaners to stem the tide. Kelowna is noted for its cleanliness, and visitors and citizens are politely requested to keep it so.

Paintings Exhibited On Monday

Exhibition of water colors by Prof. H. G. Glyde will be opened on Wednesday in the board room of the Kelowna Public Library.

Starting at 6 p.m. three young artists of Kelowna and district will appear on television. They are Elizabeth Coleman of Kelowna and Everett Marsh and Donny Ivens of Rutland. Everett and Donny are pupils of Miss Mary Reeves, a Rutland teacher who has had special training in art at UBC. Miss Reeves will be studying art again this summer at the university.

All three children will exhibit their original work in the Junior Section of the Outdoor Art Show to be held next week in the Park on July 27, 28, and 29. All children are invited to bring one original painting or drawing to the City Park on Thursday morning, July 27, at 9 o'clock, to be exhibited in the Outdoor Show. For this there is a requirement of becoming a Junior Member of the Art Exhibit Society for a fee of 25 cents for the year.

Question Aquatic Meals

A complaint from a member of the Chamber of Commerce, executive over Aquatic dining room prices was registered in the chamber's meeting Tuesday.

Charges of serious overpricing were heard.

The member told the meeting his wife had recently bought orders of fish and chips. When the waitress made out the bill she charged 75 cents. But the cafe manager called, "No, no. It's one dollar," the complainant reported.

The orders were given in paper bags and boxes, he said, and produced as "evidence" a similar order purchased prior to the chamber meeting.

The order was made up of two small pieces of fish and a small box of chips. The pricing was called "outrageous."

"If tourists and local people are being stuck like this it's shameful," he declared.

Lack of signs and menus was mentioned, and a chamber member pointed out that having these would at least remove a lot of the trouble.

The member registering the complaint produced as a climax the charge made on the order purchased as evidence. It was 85 cents, but the cafe manager or operator reportedly again reversed decision and charged 75 cents.

Chamber will write to the Aquatic stating that a complaint has been made to them.

Trustee Change In Offing

System of electing trustees from rural areas to the school board of district 23 may be changed.

Secretary-treasurer Fred Macklin reports that district representatives will be informed of the planned change at next board meeting, July 27.

The proposed system, instead of having trustees elected by representatives from the attendance areas once a year, will see land owners voting directly their trustee. The system of voting will be similar to a civic election.

Mr. Macklin said 15 attendance areas elect four trustees, one for each "zone."

Mr. Macklin believed the system will be more democratic in character, giving people more choice of representation.

Representatives from the 15 than the present system.

Annual elections providing areas will still be held, the only significant change being in the direct voting for trustees, instead of by proxy through the group of representatives.

NATIVE BROTHERHOOD

Guy R. Williams, president of the Native Brotherhood of B.C., will be guest speaker at an October Chamber of Commerce luncheon. Confirmation of this was made by letter, and read at chamber's regular meeting Tuesday. Chamber met in City Council chambers, its own quarters being occupied.

Mr. Mitchell is a wonderful teacher as well as a famous author. He is sincere and is gentle and kind. He is one of those rare people without egoism. His mantle of creativity rests softly upon his shoulders. He will not out of his way to help those struggling to be authors. He is indeed a great Canadian.

JAYCEE JOTTINGS

Local Members Pleased To Greet Pentiction Men

We were pleased to welcome Pentiction Jaycees Al Robbins, Ev Haybarger, Chuck Dinning and Bob Montague to our monthly dinner meeting at the Capri Motor Inn Monday evening.

Ev Haybarger won the District Vice-President's cup for inter-unit public speaking in a contest with Kelowna's Gary Holden. They spoke on the meaning of the Jaycee Creed.

Highlight of the evening was an address by our Ed Dickens, President of the British Columbia and Yukon Junior Chamber of Commerce. He reported on the national convention which he attended in Montreal at the beginning of this month. Twelve delegates from this province went to the convention which was considered quite good in view of the travelling distance.

Reg Dorsett of Saskatoon defeated Claude Dupuis of Quebec for the national presidency. Reg Dorsett of Burnaby, a past provincial president, was one of four vice-presidents elected by the convention. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Doward, 1480 Elm Street, Kelowna.

A point of interest to our members was the report by Ed that the French Canadian Jaycee units include girls in their membership. The Junior Chamber is normally considered as an organization for young men only, between the ages of 18 and 40.

BIDDING ANNOUNCED

John Dyck, chairman of this unit's national convention committee, reported that while he was at this year's convention, Ed Dickens had displayed a large number of convention postcards of Kelowna scenery, announcing his intention of bidding for the 1964 convention site.

The site will be chosen at next year's convention in Cal-

School Board And City Reach Land Agreement

Department of Education officials meeting with school board representatives here recently described as "feasible" a proposal for switch-over of school land deeds to the board.

Board wants the land put in its name in order that improvements may be included in a proposed December referendum tentatively set at $550,000. Department of Education refuses to consider sharing improvement costs on schools built on municipally-owned land.

Cliff said it might consider selling the land for one dollar, providing a situation could be included. Should a school burn down and the board decided not to build on the same spot, the land will revert to city ownership.

Department officials indicated they were willing to go along with this plan.

HELD DEED

At a council meeting last month, school board officials learned they unknowingly have school land but for some time City fathers believed they held the deed, and were refusing to consider transferring the land's title so improvements, much needed, could be included in the referendum.

Secretary of the school board of district 23, Fred Macklin, said that both parties should know what the other is doing, so organization is needed.

Department officials told Mr. Macklin similar arrangements to the one proposed here have been worked in other districts. Glen Avenue and Central Elementary school grounds are also city-owned, along with the junior high, and the school board feels the city will give them titles to these parcels as well.

OBJECTIVE REMOVED

Mr. Macklin said he felt council will do it, "now that all objections seem to be removed."

City council is presently checking through on the legal aspects of the transaction.

The $550,000 referendum is planned to provide money to pay for additions to schools, alterations and other improvements. Some expenditures result from revision of grade seven to elementary status.

Although more room now exists in secondary schools, elementary schools are needed.

Representatives from rural districts will meet at the next board meeting to be told of the referendum.

Skeleton plans for the referendum have been discussed with Department officials, said secretary of the board, Fred Macklin, and finalization of exact figures is expected within the next two months.

TRAMPOLINE

Top Champs To Perform At Regatta

World champion divers and trampoline artists will again be featured at the 35th Annual Kelowna International Regatta.

Leading the contingent will be Joaquin "Walk-keen" Capilla (Chalpe-ah) of Mexico, a former Olympic and world champion of the ten metre tower. Capilla turned professional after winning the coveted Olympic crown and is rated the best tower diver in the world today.

Accompanying him will be Eddie Cole, a former U.S. intercollegiate diving champion and today considered the greatest trampoline performer in the world.

Cole and his wife recently completed a tour of Europe performing outstanding gymnastics on the trampoline, and will without a doubt prove a smash hit at this year's water show. Trampoline performances will be included as part of the night shows on the floating stage at Okanagan Pool.

Also included in the diving itinerary is Canada's own Olympic contestant Irene McDonald, current holder of the Canadian tower and springboard championship and a former holder of the U.S. indoor springboard championship.

Diving and trampoline performances will be included everyday, both afternoon and evening, as part of Canada's greatest water show. Reservations for Regatta shows are obtainable from Aquatic Headquarters, Mill Street.

Explorers Explore Aquacades

Heading for Nimpo Lake, B.C., six explorers from Palm Beach, California were introduced to Aquacade visitors Tuesday night.

Describing themselves as Senior Scouts, the boys say they paid for the trip into the north themselves, but are sponsored by the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Palm Beach. None of the boys had ever trekked this far north before.

Their choice was prompted by distance: "It's a long way away from Palm Beach," said one boy. They will be gone nine days.

The Explorers group has an equivalent in Canada, but no identical group.

In the group were president Jim Olegard, vice-president Tom Dell, treasurer Jim Dunlop and Explorers Chris Engle, Leonard Thornquist, Jim Anderson, John Fairchild and John Schreiber. Advisor is Wayne Newlin, and assistant advisor is John Schreiber, senior. Not all were present at Aquacade.

INTRODUCTION

Earlier in Aquacade, life guards and swimming instructors were introduced to the large attendance, guessed to exceed 2,000. Close to 1,000 children are presently learning to swim under instruction at the Okanagan Pool.

Tom Austin provided background music on the organ. Gymnastics on trampoline were next on agenda.

SKI-FAST

Kelowna Aqua Ski Club skis past the stands displayed various water skiing tricks and feats. Baton dancers Darlene Shannon and Vicky Clement entertained.

A series of double-diving stunts with Dave Mangold and Gordie Brown were applauded heavily. New dives learned in recent competitions were featured.

A relay and straight swim race were two features, as was an unheated balloon race with three prizes given away to boys and girls under twelve. Bob Yard gave an excellent demonstration on the parallel bars.

New Pink Slip Ruling Protection for Innocent

On March 24th last, the B.C. Legislature passed a statute setting the minimum limits for "pink slip" automobile insurance at $25,000 inclusive. This new law came into effect on June 1.

At that time comment upon the new law was made in this column, however it is interesting to note the comment of "Headlight" official magazine for the British Columbia Automobile Association. That magazine, claiming the new law will protect innocent traffic victims, said:

This means that motorists insuring for the lowest amounts allowable must have $25,000 of insurance covering bodily injury and property damage to others, and that the $25,000 can be used to pay either bodily injury or property damage claims, or both.

The new limits come into effect as soon as renewals on automobile policies come due. If you were below the $25,000 amount, you must now expect to pay moderately more for car insurance.

Details of the new legislation were worked out between the B.C. government and the insurance industry, and have made possible the establishment of a new fund to protect innocent traffic victims in this province.

The Traffic Victims Indemnity Fund (T.V.I.F.)—financed and operated by insurance companies and replacing the Unsatisfied Judgment Fund—will slash red tap for persons seeking injury and damage claims against uninsured motorists.

If you become an innocent traffic victim after June 1, 1961, and if it is a hit-and-run case, or the driver involved cannot produce his Pink Slip,

this is how the new law will help you:

(1) First you contact the Traffic Victims Indemnity Fund, Suite 817, 602 West Hastings Street, Vancouver.

(2) The facts will be investigated, and a settlement offered by the Fund.

(3) If you accept the settlement, it will be paid at once by the Fund, just as if your claim had been against an insurance company.

(4) If you do not accept the settlement the courts will decide, just as if you and an insurance company could not agree.

(5) When you are paid, Traffic Victims Indemnity Fund will notify the Superintendent of Motor Vehicles, who will suspend the licence of the offending driver until arrangements have been made to repay T.V.I.F. what it has paid you.

How much protection will you get?

Starting January 1, 1962, the Fund will protect you financially up to $25,000 for injury and property damage in cases where you cannot collect from the motorist responsible. If there is no injury, the full amount is available for property damage.

If you are the victim of an insured motorist, your protection will also be at least $25,000.

In the meantime, from June 1 to January 1, Traffic Victims Indemnity Fund will protect you up to $10,000, if you alone are injured, and, subject to that limit for any one person, up to $20,000 if others are injured with you in the same accident; up to $2,000, subject to $200 deductible, if you suffer property damage (except when property damage is caused by a hit-and-run driver.)

THE SAME GENERAL DIRECTION

Rush to Out-of-Doors By 300,000 of Nation's Youth

Close to 300,000 Canadian boys and girls are expected to go to camp this summer and as they enter nature's unspoiled domain they will find an emphasis on organization and purposeful activity, says a Canadian Press Survey.

More than ever before camps are going in for detailed and elaborate programs, administered by trained staffs, and many of them now are affiliated with camping associations that exist in six provinces.

Most camping authorities queried in a cross-Canada survey by The Canadian Press seem to feel that the trend to more organized camp life is a good thing.

However, the question has arisen—at least in the West—as to whether the youngsters are not getting a bit pampered in the process.

Grant McKeen, an Edmonton YMCA official, says eastern camps have become too "modern" with running water cabins, extravagant program equipment and specialized leaders.

"We still rough it more in the West," he says.

LEAVE CAKE AT HOME
In Vancouver, Boy Scout commissioner Fred Hulsh has asked parents not to load junior down with "chocolate cake and extra goodies" when he goes to camp. The case for the defence is put forward by Gerry Wright of the YMCA in Montreal. He says: "camping has gone modern, but living has gone modern too."

INSIDE YOU AND YOURS

Roller Coaster After Drive

DEAR DOCTOR: Rheumatic fever damaged my heart long ago. Now I feel faint and dizzy after long automobile trips and my bed feels like it's turning upside down.

Does my heart trouble cause all this?
Mrs. R. L.

Dear Mrs. L.: A weakened heart may make you feel dizzy but it rarely turns beds upside down.

Long auto trips leave you with a long-lasting roller coaster effect. When you step out of a roller coaster, the platform seems to move under your feet and you feel dizzy and light-headed!

SOUR-TASTING TROUBLE
Dear Doctor: Why does one side of my face sweat whenever I eat cherry pie or something containing vinegar and how can I stop this?

Mrs. J. S.
Dear Mrs. S.: Give up vinegar and cherry pie! Sour-tasting taste buds usually start salivating. For some reason, your taste buds are misfiring and triggering both sweat and salivary glands on your left side. Your doctor can tell you more!

ERASING TATTOOS
Dear Doctor: How can tattoos be removed without operating?

Mrs. M. F.
Dear Mrs. F.: By tattooing! The medical tattoo artist can cover that old double eagle or "I Love Rosie" with special

"Our youngsters go home to a modern world where the rugged woodsmanship of a Radisson would hardly serve much purpose. On the other hand, individual initiative, co-operation, spirit, resourcefulness, emotional stability and sound values can provide mighty useful guideposts to a successful and satisfying life in a modern city."

"Comfortable" or "rugged," organized children's camps dot the Canadian landscape from coast to coast this summer. The Quebec Camping Association estimates the total number at about 1,500, with 850 of them in Ontario and 200 in Quebec.

They are operated by churches, service clubs, the YMCA and other private organizations, usually taking their young charges in two-week shifts, and the general price range is from $5 to $50 a week.

AID POORER CHILDREN
Many cater to children from families in lower-income groups and the camp sponsors either pick up the entire tab or ask only that parents pay what they can.

Precise camp-attendance figures are unavailable because there are no provincial camping associations in Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Saskatchewan and many camps in the other provinces are unaffiliated.

Official estimates of what total camp attendance will be in the six "organized" provinces this summer, at both affiliated and unaffiliated camps, are: Nova Scotia, 5,000; Quebec, 90,000; Ontario, 105,000; Manitoba, 30,000; Alberta, 35,000; British Columbia, 20,000.

A salutary development in recent years is the increasing number of opportunities for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children to enjoy camp life.

CAREFUL SUPERVISION
Camps for children who are retarded, crippled or diabetic now exist in nearly every province. They are more closely supervised than other camps, but the principle is followed of putting as many normal activities into the program as possible.

On the average, the camps for the mentally retarded have one supervisor for every two children and those for physically handicapped ones for every five, whereas the normal is one for every 20 to 40 depending on the age of the youngsters to be supervised.

In two of the provinces that have no camping associations, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, camping activity is nevertheless widespread.

There are about 80 camps in Prince Edward Island and 3,000 children are expected to attend them this summer. The emphasis is strongly on water sports and hiking.

MANY N.B. CAMPS
There are scores of camps in New Brunswick, mostly on rivers and lakes, but camping authorities in that province declined to estimate the total number. At least 10,000 children are expected to attend them.

Newfoundland has a number of camps operated or leased by churches, mostly for underprivileged children, and the total expected attendance is unofficially estimated at 1,000.

Among the "organized" provinces, British Columbia is the most recent addition to the ranks. The British Columbia association says its program is "just getting off the ground" and "it will be years before we march, like Ontario, for instance."

One of the country's most unusual camps is the dollar-a-day Camp de l'Amitie (Friendship Camp) on the south shore of the Ottawa River, 30 miles west of Montreal, where 60 to 70 boys—most of them from immigrant families—spend two weeks together in a miniature melting pot. It is run by the New Canadian service bureau of the Montreal Catholic school commission.

SPONSOR DAY CAMP
Another experiment in camping got under way in southern Vancouver Island. The Victoria YWCA is sponsoring a day camp at Saxo Point, five miles outside the city, for youngsters eight to 11 years old.

Too young to be away from home over night for the normal two-week camping period, the youngsters are taken to the camp daily by bus and taught to identify trees and birds, build bird-houses and tie knots.

An increasing number of camps are specializing in music, drama or other arts. An example is the fine arts camp in Banff, Alta., where children from five to 15 can take classes in ballet, drama, French, painting and singing. It is sponsored by the Banff School of Fine Arts.

Alberta is more noted, however, for the ruggedness of its camp life, which probably is not surpassed anywhere else in the country.

At the province's oldest camp, Keweenaw in the Rockies west of Edmonton, boys from nine to 16 are taught the art of survival

OTTAWA REPORT

Question of M.P. Dignity

(Patrick Nicholson is on vacation. His Guest Columnist today is W. F. Mathews, Conservative MP for Nanaimo, B.C.)

Patrick Nicholson, in his fearless way, has asked me to write a Guest Column to be printed in the Kelowna Courier.

While I am very much against amateurish attempts of Members of Parliament in the writing of news columns, I am always willing to try and help a friend. Mr. Nicholson has made this proviso, that it must relate to some aspect of Parliament, and that is just what I have been soaking up for some months now. So here goes.

Some of the gentlemen of the Fourth Estate, that sit high over the throne of Mr. Speaker have been given the Members of Parliament a bad time this Session. They have been complaining about the attendance, and also about the way some of the Members have been acting in the House, in other words, there is no dignity to the Parliament of today.

That raises the question, has there ever been dignity in Parliament at all times in the Parliament of any country?

I learned while in Japan that their Parliament is not all dignity. They had quiet galleries, but noisy Members on the floor of the Assembly Hall. Applause and rude remarks from the back benches.

The House of Representatives in the United States has for years had its shouts and catcalls; France has been, I am told, noted for disagreements on the floor that have at times led to a duel.

In the House of Commons here in Ottawa, it is just sixteen feet between the front benches, this being copied from the House of Commons in England. I found out that this distance was set to give Members, if they disagreed, room for sword play. So there was not always dignity in England's Parliament.

I can well remember reading about lack of dignity in City Council Chambers in many parts of British Columbia, and over a period of years, whether they are worse now than they used to be is debatable.

We can also all remember lack of dignity at Service Club meetings, at ball games, at lacrosse and hockey games, and it is not always the players that are to blame. I went to a hockey game in Hull one afternoon and some of the fans, not all of them, got out of hand and it was necessary to sweep the ice of programs and rubbers seven times. I thought this would not happen in the Big League, but when I attended a National Hockey League game in Montreal, the fans were worse, no dignity.

One good thing about Canada is that we can express ourselves, we can have our own ideas and we can be undignified if we choose.

The Members of Parliament are a cross section of the people of Canada, they come from all walks of life. They have different religions, different theories, different outlooks on life. Some are from wealthy families, well educated, some are perhaps self-educated, and the thought is that perhaps it is a good thing that they are not all perfect, not all supermen intellectually, if they were we would soon be lost.

Because these Members of Parliament are a cross section of the people of Canada, we do have differences of opinion in Parliament, and at times things do get out of hand, until the Speaker can restore order. This does not mean that there is no dignity in the Chamber, all the Members are not rude.

It is true that there are times when there are only a few Members in the Chamber but then there are many Committee meetings while the House is sitting. After the Question Period many Members leave to go to their meetings. As a matter of fact, the gentleman of the press also leave when the Question Period is finished, leaving, at times, only one reporter on duty.

It is true that these reports can read all the speeches the next day in Hansard, but then so can the Members.

It is also a fact that many Members have an excellent record of attendance in the House, and do all of the things that are expected of a good representative of the people.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Large Scale Plan For Youth Clubs

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.) Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — The United Kingdom government, through the ministry of education, is undertaking a large scale program based on its concern for the welfare of the youth of this country. In this program it will invest millions of dollars to provide for the expansion of youth clubs and centres under a greatly enlarged scheme for youth service buildings. In a statement made in the House of Commons, Sir David Eccles, minister of education, said that within the next two or three years, more than 750 new youth clubs and centres will be provided. Construction work has already started on some of these.

The program provides for both buildings and full-time youth leaders. In the fiscal year of 1961-1962, the outlay on buildings will be close to $8,500,000. In the following fiscal year, the amount will be stepped up to $11,500,000.

TRAINING LEADERS
In 1962, about 150 newly-trained full-time youth leaders will be available for the staffing of new youth centres. Many will have finished courses at the National College for the Training of Youth Leaders, which was established at Leicester a year ago. This number will be exceeded by a substantial figure in the following year.

The assistance given to national voluntary youth organizations is also to be increased by a substantial amount. Thirty-four of these organizations will share $650,000 in grants this year for headquarters administration and training expenses. This is almost double the figure of two years ago, when 23 organizations received $344,000.

Sir David Eccles said that since the publication of the Albenarle report on the youth services last year, he had offered $160,000 in grants for experiments and special developments in the field of youth services. Sir David added:

GROWING EFFORTS
"There is encouraging evidence of growing co-operation and initiative on the part of the local education authorities and voluntary organizations to match the efforts of the government to expand and develop the youth service."

"As occasion requires, I shall consider with these partners and the Youth Service Development Council what further steps are necessary towards that end."

Sir David said that he expected to announce soon the qualifications for the status of qualified youth leaders. He understood that the joint negotiating committee for youth leaders was about to make recommendations on salaries and conditions of service.

The next step would be to consider the training of part-time youth leaders and assistants.

Boston Nightshirt Takes on New Look

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Massachusetts missionaries of yesterday would turn in their graves if they could see what's happened to the staid old Boston nightshirt.

Hawaii turned it into a gaudy, fashionable creation called the muu-muu after the missionaries insisted the hula girls should have something better than a grass skirt to cover their charms.

Now it's gone Oriental and even the Hawaiians don't care for the transformation.

The latest version, brought in to vogue by the Broadway musical The World of Suzie Wong, has all the sides, a plunging neckline and ribbon straps instead of full sleeves.

It came into Vancouver Monday around Jennifer Davies, 20-year-old fashion artist, a passenger on the new P and O-Orient liner Canberra.

"Anything goes in the Suzie Wong muu-muu," she said. "You never see Hawaiians wearing them but the Oriental population and tourists are taking to them in a big way."

ODD FACT

A Denver, Colo., woman is suing for divorce on the ground that while she and her husband were attending a movie in 1959 he went out for popcorn and never returned.

Something for Nothing

Recreation Minister Westwood is right in sticking to his guns about the camp site fees. Were he to back down because of a few complaints from persons who want something for nothing it would be a sign of weakness.

It might be argued that not enough advance notice was given that a fee would be charged. It might be that a one-dollar fee would be enough to deter the permanent campers. But beyond that no legitimate grumble remains.

No one has any right to expect to be given free accommodation for holiday periods stretching into weeks and even longer. Park sites were never designed for that purpose. They are meant for use overnight or a few days at most by vacation travellers; they are stops en route and not indeterminate residence sites.

In any case paternalism can go too far, and there is no justification for the public in general, through its taxes, to subsidize the holidays of camping families. The fee being charged is small enough in all conscience and the first two days' stay are free. What more do people expect?

These provincial camp sites are finely laid out with all the needed amenities. They will be all the better for a little revenue to keep them that way. As it happens also only four out of scores of camp sites are affected by the new fee; there would be warrant for charging at least a dollar-a-day in the others as well.

10 YEARS AGO

July, 1951

The 1951 Okanagan apple crop is estimated at 6,216,760 boxes, a big drop from last year's 8,008,073 crop, according to figures released by the B.C. department of agriculture.

20 YEARS AGO

July, 1941

Bales of hay, pitch forks, shovels, harness and unique posters of farm animals formed the setting at the Aquatic Club last Wednesday evening for the first Wednesday night dance of the season when the Ladies' Aquatic Auxiliary sponsored its Spinners' Barn Dance.

30 YEARS AGO

July, 1931

The arduous work of laying the new sewer pipe on Water Street was completed last Saturday, crossing under the bed of Mill Creek being accomplished during Friday night.

40 YEARS AGO

The fifteenth annual Kelowna Regatta, to be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 10 and 11, shows every indication of being larger and more entertaining than any previous aquatic gala held on the lake.

The lake, The Regatta Committee have decided to revert to the former practice of having two days of water sports, omitting the field events, which now come more within the sphere of the Kelowna Amateur Athletic Association and which that body has clearly demonstrated it can handle ably.

50 YEARS AGO

July, 1911

One of the most instructive and interesting meetings held here in recent years by the Kelowna Farmers' Institute took place on Friday, July 14, and the Department of Agriculture is greatly to be congratulated on having arranged a demonstration and lecture on a subject of the utmost importance, but, as events showed, little understood—that of irrigation.

A cat with his tail in a sling is complaining bitterly about President Kennedy's having popularized the rocking chair.

Tunisia, Morocco Split Seen On Sahara Claims

PARIS (AP) — Tunisia and Morocco, former French possessions now independent, are beginning to split with the Algerian rebels over their claims to the Sahara desert.

As a result of the conflicting claims, France is likely to argue that she must hold on to the desert and its potential oil and mineral wealth lest it become a source of major discord.

The latest rift developed Monday between Tunisia and the Algerian rebel government, which from its exile home in Tunis considers itself the future ruler of Algeria and the Sahara.

Shortly after Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba announced Monday he would send a commando unit Wednesday to plant the red-and-white Tunisian flag in the Sahara south of the present Tunisian border, the Algerian rebels issued a warning.

Apparently fearing a compromise between France and Tunisia, rebel premier Ferhat Abbas said "these problems can only be settled... with a sovereign independent Algeria... No valid change of the frontier can be made with a colonialist power, which has no right to conclude any accord in the name of Algeria."

APPEALED TO AFRICANS

With peace negotiations between France and the rebels resuming Thursday, the Algerian nationalists also appealed for African states to back their claim to the vast desert.

President de Gaulle's government maintains that the Sahara forms a geographic and political entity separate from Algeria.

Bourguiba and his ruling Neo-Destour party mobilized Tunisian public opinion to back the government's claim to a wedge of the desert not far from the rich Edjele oil field France is developing.

To the West, on the other side of the Sahara, the Moroccan government is claiming a vast area of the desert near Colomb-Bechar and Tindouf that has coal and iron deposits.

Abbas and Moroccan king Hassan II conferred two weeks ago and announced "the problems of the frontier between Morocco and Algeria concern them alone and can be settled only between these two states," meaning France has no say. But there was no indication that they had reached any agreement on the Moroccan claim.

Society Urges Improvement In Education Of Teachers

SASKATOON (CP)—A learned society within the teaching profession has urged efforts to improve teacher education across Canada.

Delegates to the annual meeting of the Canadian College of Teachers, gathered here from across the country, were agreed Monday on the need for upgrading teacher training but not on how it should be done.

The college, holding its fourth annual session before the Canadian Teachers Federation annual conference, may make recommendations at later sessions. At the opening session Monday, Dr. M. E. LaZerte of Edmonton, one-time federation head and a one-man royal commission on education for Prince Edward Island, criticized some teacher education courses as "too easy."

SUGGESTS OBJECTIVES
He suggested the college might lay down long-term objectives to be reached in teacher education over a quarter of a century.

Rev. J. H. Conway of St. Patrick's College, Ottawa, also agreed enough was not demanded of students in teacher education programs but asked that course should be followed. Discussion was sparked by an address by Dr. S. W. Stinson, principal of Saskatoon Teachers College, who urged immediate steps to raise entrance requirements and a lengthening of the minimum courses for teacher education.

He said education for teaching—to teach a child how to use the most complicated instrument in existence, his brain—usually required only one year's training while other professions demanded four to six years beyond senior matriculation.

URGED SPECIAL COURSE
He urged a two-year education course—perhaps ultimately four years—as the heart of a program of good teacher education.

Dr. Stinson said the approach of too many teachers is to dish out facts, expecting them to be shelved back. He called this approach "a real impediment to good thinking."

He said universities have not given strong leadership in work-

BERLIN CRISIS

JFK Nearing Decision On Meeting Challenge

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported today to be nearing a decision on military and diplomatic measures the United States may take to meet the Soviet challenge over West Berlin.

The President scheduled a meeting of the national security council this afternoon (3:30 p.m. EDT). The meeting was expected to deal largely, if not entirely, with the Berlin crisis and is the third such White House gathering of policy-makers in three weeks.

Prior to this conference with his diplomatic and military advisers, the president was due to make at a press conference (10 a.m. EDT) a new statement of their Berlin rights

Flood Of Berlin Refugees Puts Query Why Allow It?

BERLIN (AP)—The Communist threat to West Berlin set a record 4,000 refugees fleeing into West Berlin during the weekend, raising once more the question of why the Communist police don't cut off the flow that worsens production shortages in East Germany and gives the satellite regime a worse name.

The question always arises when there is a spurt in the number fleeing to the West. The Communists' vast police apparatus could stop the traffic, 80 to 90 per cent of which funnels through East Berlin into West Berlin. There could be much tighter checks on travel into East Berlin, and then on the city's inter-zone railways that bring thousands from East to West Berlin each day to work.

Tougher controls would frighten away many escapees since "flight from the (Communist) republic" is a crime punishable by two years in jail.

In private the Russians often show concern over the Second World War agreements with the Western allies that guarantee free movement within the city.

Russia may not want to give the West further reason to say that these agreements are being violated in Berlin.

FEARS LOSING FACE
Fear of losing face is thought to be one motive that keeps the Communists from stronger measures. East Berlin has been proclaimed the capital of their "german democratic republic." It would look bad to the world if citizens were prevented from freely visiting their capital.

The Communist authorities may also feel that they are better off without some of the refugees. They know their regime is unpopular. Discontented people forced to stay might turn out to be a lot more trouble than they are worth.

Few of the refugees are active anti-Communists though they dislike the Red regime. Usually they flee in search of a better living. Prevented from going, they might turn to retaliatory action.

The Russians also may be taking a hand behind the scenes. In public Moscow says that all political matters in East

'Matchless'

Cigaret Soon

NEW YORK (AP) — A cigarette bound to be advertised as matchless is expected to be in production early in 1962, it was announced Tuesday.

The matchless brand, said Nicholas Tweel, president of Continental Tobacco Co., will be a self-lighting one.

Tweel disclosed the production schedule in signing contracts with American Machine and Foundry Co. to design and build prototype machines.

The AMF machines will tip cigarettes with continental's patented formula and apply a striking surface to both the cigarette and the matchbox.

Tweel said the cigarette can be ignited by gently rubbing it on the special surface printed on the sides of the package. An even glow rather than a flame results.

Retail Sales Up 2.5 Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP)—Sales by retailers in May totalled $1,458,424,000, an increase of 2.5 per cent over the same month of 1960, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimated today.

All provinces except Manitoba and British Columbia reported increases. Quebec showed the sharpest gain, up 6.2 per cent, with East Germany by the end of this year and claims that dealers came up with a 28-per-cent rise, a reflection of the generally cold May weather this year.

Production of apples this year will be down almost eight per cent at 13,744,000 bushels. Lower production in Quebec, Nova Scotia and Ontario showing increases.

Even Loudest Laughters Prepare For A-Attack

OTTAWA (CP) — Most Canadians laugh at the thought of a nuclear war coming to Canada, but some of the ones who laugh the loudest are getting ready — The Emergency Measures Organization — a federal agency charged with co-ordinating Canada's nuclear-age civil defence preparations — has been sounding the alarm for about a year now the need for preparedness.

The 40-page survival booklet carries the reader through 11 steps on handling such nuclear war problems as how to get rid of radioactive dust. It came out in May and the first printing of 300,000 copies was gone "in a matter of weeks."

Many people are convinced of the danger but are too sheepish to admit it to neighbors, he added.

People are building shelters "more than you realize," the official said. There was no way of knowing exactly how many, but the fact that more than 1,000,000 copies of shelter plans provided by the government have been gobbled up by the public was a good indication of interest.

Another was a steady, increasing demand for copies of a booklet printed by the federal Emergency Measures Organization telling Canadians how to prepare for, and survive in, a nuclear war. The booklet, Eleven Steps to Survival, started pouring off a

Big Vernon Welcome For Wally Byam Travelcade

VERNON (Staff) — More than 300 people, including army cadets, attended the welcome - entertainment evening Tuesday at Polson Park following the arrival of the 23-trailer Washington unit of the Wally Byam Caravan.

The trailercade, which left Seapouise, Oregon, on June 12 for B.C. tour, arrived in the city from Lac le Hache late Wednesday afternoon after covering nearly 4,000 miles.

Words of welcome were given by George Melvin, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association, and Ald. Ellwood Rice for the city.

Wagon Master Mr. Bill Pierce of Seattle, replied. The brief opening ceremonies were followed by a performance by the McIntosh Girls Pipe Band under Bandmaster Malcolm McCulloch, solos by accordionist Roy Russ, with the evening closed by magic tricks done by Ralph Fleming of the caravan accompanied by his wife on the accordion.

Another concert will be held in the park tonight starting at 8 p.m. and featuring the Flemings and Russ again, plus Vernon Girls Trumpet Band and other entertainment.

Mr. Pierce, 74, and his wife Mary, 62, termed the hospitality they had received in their northern tours as "unbelievable".

Among the places they visited have been Prince Rupert, Prince George, Terrace, Smithers, Williams Lake, Quesnel, Barkerville, and Vanderhoof.

BIG RAIN
The only rain they have encountered was a half-day downpour in Vanderhoof, where the citizens opened the arena door and let the trailercade stay there until it was over. "They were very kind," said Mr. Pierce.

Following their stay here the caravan will spend Thursday and Friday in Pentiction, before re-crossing the U.S. border. They will disperse after a meeting of the Washington unit in Chehalis, Wash.

Mr. Pierce, who is retired, said the purpose of the trailercade was to give people of retiring age an opportunity to travel with persons of mutual interests and similar age. Average age in the caravan is about 65.

There are about 50 people in the trailercade, which is just one of many Wally Byam - organized trailer tours. Some of the trailercades number more than 250 units.

Mr. Pierce said it was his first visit to the Okanagan and he was very impressed by it. He said the visit would lay the ground work for future tours of the district.

When will a future visit be? "Just whenever we get bitten by the travel bug," winked Mr. Pierce.

COQUIHALLA PASS PLEA GAINS BOARD'S APPROVAL
OTTAWA (CP) — The board of transport commissioners today approved a CPR application to abandon 49.6 miles of line between Brodie and Hope in south central British Columbia.

The stretch of line, taken over from the Kettle Valley Railway Company in 1956, has been out of use since November, 1959, when heavy rains washed out sections of the track.

There is only one resident in the Coquihalla subdivision in which the line runs through. In its application, the railway contended repairs would cost $308,700 whereas net salvage value would be $563,000.

Traffic in the area has been re-routed along an alternate line.

Storm Puts Oyama Into Confusion

OYAMA — One of the worst hail storms in recent years struck at Oyama orchards on Sunday. Nearly all parts of Oyama were affected, with orchards in the south-east section receiving the most severe hail damage termed by some growers as disastrous.

The storm coated the ground with hail and deposited three-quarter inch of rain in a 20-minute period.

Shortly after the storm hit Oyama the local fire siren sounded causing great consternation to firemen who could hardly see their way to the fire hall due to the storm.

The alarm turned out to be false having been triggered by lightning.

Two further blasts on the siren caused some consternation among residents when firemen tested the siren to make sure the automatic telephone system was still operating efficiently.

Board Accepts Tenders For School Painting

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Tenders on painting of the staff of the junior-senior recreation hall were opened Tuesday at the meeting of Armstrong School Board.

M and M Construction Co. of Vernon with a bid of $750 were awarded the contract for work at the Recreation Hall and tiling the ceilings of two washrooms and one lunchroom at the Elementary School.

Lowest tender on interior and exterior painting at the Junior-Senior High School of $925 submitted by Harry Webster of Vernon was accepted. It on Brown's tender of $769.63 for installation of fluorescent lighting in the recreation hall was accepted.

A request from the parks board that the school board contribute towards operating costs of heating the swimming pool during the months of May and September was turned down.

Swimming lessons are not on the curriculum, and costs must be met wholly by the school board which means that council would be asked for more money. Trustees agreed that no further sum should be added to the tax burden.

NEW APPOINTMENT
Miss Geraldine Loyett has been appointed to the element-

Man Faces 'Serious Charge'

VERNON (Staff) — Francis Gordon Wilson, an employee of the Kelowna Yacht Club, will be tried in police court here July 27 on a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency. Magistrate Frank Smith called it a charge "of a very serious nature".

Wilson, represented by Kelowna barrister Patrick D. O'Neill, pleaded not guilty in court this morning.

He was remanded in custody for trial. Bail has been set at $3,000 with one surety.

Court Firm With Driver

VERNON (Staff) — Plea that he had three small children to support by a man charged with impaired driving made no impression in police court on Tuesday.

John Gonchas of Armstrong was fined $200 and costs with a two-month suspension of his driving privileges.

He was driver of a car which struck a parked vehicle at the junction off Thirty-Second and Thirty-Ninth Avenue, causing more than $500 damages.

Mr. Gonchas told the court he had to use his car to get to and from his home and a job as painter in Vernon. "It's going to make it very difficult for me if my license is suspended," he said.

"That's the whole point of a suspension," said Magistrate Frank Smith, "to make it difficult so that you will remember not to repeat the offence."

In another case Larry Walsh of Vancouver, who said he was working for Maclean-Hunter Publishing Company, was fined $50 and costs for causing a disturbance by swearing in King's Cafe here early Tuesday.

A companion, Wayne John Thompson, was given the same fine for a similar offence.

"There is no place to have a wing-ding," warned the magistrate. "This is a nice place and we won't tolerate this sort of behaviour."

Fined $25 and costs for careless driving was Edward Ross of Vernon while a similar charge cost Joseph Southward a $50 and costs fine.

OVERLOAD FINES

Truckers in Lumby estimated that the total fines for overloads amounted to $3,000, not $300 as reported in Tuesday's Courier. Both M and Z Logging and Ohsahl Brothers paid total fines of over $200.

First 'Talk' Since Mill Strike At Lumby Began

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Reported yesterday afternoon by first communication between Samuel A. "Bill" Muir, business agent Local 1423 the International Woodworkers of America.

Mr. Muir said a letter had been received from Mr. Stewart's lawyers, Davis and Blundell of Vernon, offering "without prejudice" slightly better than half of what the union is asking.

Efforts to contact Mr. Stewart for comment have failed. Last Friday, Mr. Stewart did tell the local correspondent that he might have a statement to make on Monday, but such has not been forthcoming.

Mr. Muir said the union had answered the letter offering to meet and discuss the matter.

Meanwhile he reported that approximately 15,000 feet of pine has been moved off the Stewart Planing Mill Ltd. yard early in the morning before pickets arrived at 7 a.m., and moved into mill property. He said he understood that this lumber has on consignment from Dunsons Lumber Ltd., and had been moved by their forklift.

He said it was of little account however, because Lumby Planing Mill was a union shop and would not touch hot lumber. He noted further that the George Fisher Planing Mill of Lumby was of comparable size to Stewart's, that Mr. Fisher had signed the contract and made his retroactive payments.

Asked what Mr. Stewart's retroactive pay would amount to, Mr. Muir said "between five and six hundred dollars".

One of the picketers had this to say, "The reason we went union on Stewart was because he was paying about fifteen cents per hour below everyone else. When we struck, he was again paying lower than even the non-union mills."

Unfortunately again, Mr. Stewart could not be contacted for comment.

Option Taken On Site For Sr. Citizens' Home

VERNON (Staff) — The Rest-Kidston, will be submission of a plan and cost estimate for approval by the provincial secretary.

This approval is a pre-requisite to obtain a one-third grant from the province under the elderly Citizens' Housing Act.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bagall have offered to donate $50,000 to the project, meaning about $50,000 more will probably have to be raised through public subscription and grants.

The land now being considered is a two-acre parcel east of the west Vernon school. Tentative plans require construction of a hostel with accommodation for 50 elderly persons.

IT'S A SORT OF A SCARY MONSTER

One of the many attractions of Polson Park in Vernon, particularly for the young fry, is the cement likeness of the Okanagan Lake's fabled monster Ogopogo. Here, surrounded by cement frogs, the famous serpent spits water as a fountain in a lovely setting of water lilies surrounded by ancient willow trees. But the kids are never quite certain that it won't get up and slither away one of these days. These youngsters on Monday were no exception. (Courier staff photo)

Dief Starts Off On Tour Of Northwest Territories

PRINCE ALBERT (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker left here Tuesday by plane on what is believed to be the first visit of a prime minister to the Northwest Territories since 1900.

Mr. Diefenbaker left Prince Albert, his home town, after a two-hour stopover to fly to Uranium City, Sask., and then on to Yellowknife, N.W.T., to spend the night.

Mr. Wilfrid Laurier was the last prime minister to set foot on Northwest Territories soil, when he participated in Confederation ceremonies for the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan in September 1905.

Sir Wilfrid attended ceremonies at Edmonton Sept. 1,

1905 and a similar function in Regina three days later.

Prior to that, the area out of which the two new provinces were carved formed part of the Northwest Territories. Mr. Diefenbaker is believed to be the first prime minister to venture into the region north of the provincial boundaries now marking off the territories. He is to spend five days touring the region and the Yukon, including a visit to the Northwest Territories Council, currently sitting at Fort Simpson, on the Mackenzie River about 225 miles west of Yellowknife.

TELLS OF DROUGHT AID
During his stop-over in Prince Albert Tuesday, Mr. Diefenbaker outlined a program to aid prairie farmers wishing to combat drought-stricken grain municipality to be ready for crops into greenfeed for live sale.

He told a press conference the aid will take the form of payments of $5 a ton to farmers cutting their parched wheat, barley or oat crops for feed. The cost will be split between the federal and provincial governments.

The action was agreed on by cabinet Monday, he said, and the Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba governments would be notified of the offer this week. Mr. Diefenbaker said the action "will restore confidence in the livestock industry and fodder prices, keep fodder prices down and put money into the grain farmers' pockets."

He said the $5 a ton would be paid to the farmers when the prairie farmers wishing to combat drought-stricken grain municipality to be ready for crops into greenfeed for live sale.

GAITSKELL ACCUSES P.M. FOR U.K. ECONOMY PLIGHT

LONDON (AP) — Labor Leader Hugh Gaitskell accused Prime Minister Macmillan's Conservative government today of allowing Britain to drift into a serious economic crisis.

Gaitskell opened a debate in the House of Commons with a declaration that the nation now must face the facts of its financial position. He declared:

"These are the facts, unpalatable as they may be — a run on the pound sterling, gold reserves falling, for 18 months our balance of payments in the red, the worst export record of any industrial country, a steadily declining share of world trade, almost the worst production record and almost the highest rise in prices."

Gaitskell spoke a short time after Macmillan refused to be drawn into any definition of Britain's plans on joining the European Common Market.

Planes Search P.G. Area In Lightning Fires Quest

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Forest service officials patrolled in aircraft over the Prince George area Tuesday looking for fires in the wake of two lightning storms.

Thunder storms rumbled over the area Sunday and Monday touching off at least six new blazes.

Officials said the only serious outbreak is a small fire 40 miles southeast of here.

It is burning on the top of a knoll in the centre of a large stand of saleable spruce and fir. Another blaze 300 miles north-west of Prince George crept to within half a mile of the small community of Fort Ware before firefighters brought it under control.

Also fought to a standstill was a 275-acre fire in the Manson Creek area, 100 miles north of Fort St. James.

A water bomber and a helicopter were thrown into the battle against two new fires in the Vancouver forest district.

The Whoonock Timber Company hired the water bomber to help douse a 100-acre blaze on its Whoonock Lake property 30 miles north of Mission.

Timber crews moved by helicopter to reach a 40-acre outbreak 22 miles east of Hope in the Skagit Mountains.

He said crews are holding their own with a 1,200-acre fire along the Pacific Great Eastern Railway 45 miles north of Vancouver.

Also under control are small outbreaks at the head of Butte Inlet, 140 miles north of here, and at East Sooke near Victoria.

In the Nelson district, forest service officials reported 70 new fires, most of them sparked by lightning, are being fought by 302 men using bulldozers and helicopters.

Suppression crews are fighting a 500-acre fire near Canal Flats in the East Kootenays. Kamloops district forester A. H. Dixon reported 24 fires in the district all of them under control.

Divers Start To Raise 'Grave' Ship

CLEVELAND (AP) — Divers are working to raise an oil barge that sank in a Lake Erie storm 19 years ago with 18 persons aboard.

By late Tuesday night 80 feet of the vessel Cleveco was above water.

Salvage operations thus far have revealed no trace of the remains of those aboard when the 360-foot ship, carrying 800,000 gallons of oil, went down. No recoverable oil appeared to be in the six tanks of the sunken barge. The vessel was resting upside down six miles off nearby Sand Beach in 60 feet of water.

When the Cleveco went down in a 40-mile-an-hour gale on Dec. 3, 1942, the tug Admiral also was lost. There were 14 men aboard the tug, which was towing the Cleveco from Lorain to Cleveland. The tug never has been found.

Army engineers said the oil barge has stood high above the 27-foot depth required now for seaway shipping, making it a navigation hazard.

Teachers' Three-Way Challenge

SASKATOON (CP) — A three-fold challenge arising from shifting world patterns and posing fresh problems for education officials was unfolded Monday to the Canadian College of Teachers.

Dean J. B. Kirkpatrick of the College of Education, University of Saskatchewan, suggested to the annual meeting here these changes have implications for the curriculum, administration, teaching procedures and teacher education.

He suggested two approaches for education to meet the changes resulting from the pace of technological advance: Help children develop skills, attitudes and work habits which would be equally useful in solving tomorrow's problems — a way of attacking problems not readily outmoded; and an unchanging set of values.

Both the beatnik and the juvenile delinquent, cynical defeatism and blind rebellion, reflected a need for something in which to believe.

DEMOCRACY NOT ENOUGH

"I do not think that democracy, in itself, is a sufficient answer," Dean Kirkpatrick said. "I think we need to do more in our homes, churches, schools to teach that very personal belief without which democracy will move towards totalitarianism."

He wondered whether in removing from public schools responsibility for moral and religious instruction "we have thrown out the baby with the bath water."

A shrinking world posed the problem of changing "the way we think and the way we feel about other peoples and we may not have much time in which to make the change."

At an afternoon session, the shades of philosopher John Dewey and the continuing controversy over "progressivist" and "traditionalist" theories of education was raised.

PRAISES DEWEY

Rev. C. L. Selgried, president of St. Jerome's College at Kitchener, Ont., said that insofar of his day, he made a valuable contribution to modern education.

"But his own philosophy, the basic principles which he laid down as a guide for those who were to establish a new system of education, have not withstood the pragmatic test," he said.

Dr. John Macdonald, former dean of arts and science at the University of Alberta, traced the rise and influence of Deweyism. He said the reason for the present distrust of it, apart from criticism of its role in education, lay in the philosophy itself.

A philosophy of the frontier which elevated science and thrust it forward as the key to man's future, it no longer matched conditions. A new philosophy for education would have to be deeper, Dr. Macdonald said.

BANKS, FOX

Baseball Fame Fickle, Fleeting

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball fame can be fickle and fleeting. Before benching himself, Ernie Banks had a consecutive game streak of some 700 games. At the age of 30, Banks is far from day.

Take the respective cases of Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs and Nelson Fox of the Chicago White Sox.

Less than two years ago—after the 1959 season ended—Banks was named the National League's most valuable player for a second successive year. And Fox received the same honor in the American League while leading his team to a pennant. But both these stars now are on the bench.

In Cincinnati Sunday, Banks was sidelined by Cub head coach Elvin Tappe. Ernie reportedly has been troubled by a muscular condition which impairs depth perception of his left eye. He also has had trouble with his left knee.

Ernie has a .286 average, 13 homers and 39 runs batted in. The fearsome slugger who has hit 40 or more home runs in five of the last six seasons trails such lesser stars as George Altman, Billy Williams and Ron Santo in one or another of these departments.

It marked the first time in his more than eight years in the majors — all with the Cubs — that Banks has been sidelined by anyone other than himself. Ernie asked to be benched last month. He was out for eight days and during that time the Cubs won five of eight games.

Vancouver Swimmer, 13, Could Give Canada Lift

Two years ago, Canadian swimmer Mary Stewart showed remarkable far-sightedness when she chose 13-year-old Mary Stewart for Canada's 1960 Pan-American Games team at Chicago. They figured that international competition was just the thing to make her a world beater.

The skinny, 96-pound Vancouver youngster appeared to be lost among the broad-shouldered, taller and heavier Americans who swept everything in sight. Little Miss Stewart didn't win any medals but she certainly gained experience.

She went home, trained whenever possible and made the 1960 team to the Rome Olympics. That's when she really started to show her class. The five-foot-one-inch girl battled the world's best in the final of the 100-metre freestyle. En route, she beat Australia's fabulous Ilsa Konrads in the semi-finals. She didn't win a medal but, with Virginia Grant of Toronto, is the only Canadian to reach the final in this event. Miss Grant did it at the 1956 Games in Melbourne.

It wasn't surprising last Saturday at Tacoma, Wash., when the Vancouver girl set a world record in the 110-yard butterfly in a Pacific Northwest Amateur Athletic Union meet. Experts have been calling the shot on this pert miss and she should give amateur swimming in Canada a big lift.

Her time at Tacoma was one minute and 10 seconds, well ahead of the listed world mark of 1:10.8 set Feb. 23, 1960, by Australia's powerful Dawn Fraser.

This is interesting because the 24-year-old Miss Fraser undoubtedly ranks as one of the world's greatest all-time women swimmers who undoubtedly will clash head-on with tiny Miss Stewart at the 1962 British Empire Games at Perth, Australia. Miss Fraser, five feet seven inches tall and weighing 143 pounds, has been beating the world since the 1956 Olympic Games.

That year she won gold medals in the 100-metre freestyle and as a member of Australia's 400-metre freestyle relay team. She also picked up a second-place silver medal in the 400-metre freestyle. In the 1958 British Empire Games at Cardiff, Wales, she won two gold and two second-place silver medals and last year in the Rome Olympics, she successfully defended her 100-metre freestyle title — the first woman to win the Olympic sprint title twice.

Miss Stewart is still a nifty free-style swimmer and the Aussies, who captured 11 of the 19 titles at stake in the 1958 B.E. Games swimming, may have some trouble with this pert schoolgirl.

Bonus Hurler Helps Giants Increase Lead

Bonus pitcher Gaylord Perry won his 11th game of the season Tuesday night as Tacoma Giants increased their Pacific Coast Baseball League lead to two games by downing San Diego Padres 6-3.

Perry, the league's top winner, and two relievers gave up 11 hits but the Giants made an early lead stand up for the win.

Meanwhile, the second-place Seattle Rainiers fell 5-3 to the red-hot Spokane Indians as Rene Valdes hurled a three-hitter for the win.

Later games saw the third-place Vancouver Mounties defeat Portland Beavers 9-1 and Hawaii Islanders edge Salt Lake City Bees 5-4 in 11 innings. On Piche, the PCL's earned-run-average leader, pitched a six-hitter as Vancouver took advantage of 16 walks by two Portland pitchers. Mounties won it with seven runs in the first inning.

Piche now has eight wins this season. Lawall used a two-run triple by Ken Toothman — a former Salt Lake City player — to defeat the last-place Bees. Teams are scheduled to meet.

Baseballer Dies At 67

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Horace O. (Hod) Eller, 67, who established a World Series record of six straight strikeouts, died of cancer Tuesday.

Eller, pitching for Cincinnati Redlegs, captured two victories in the 1919 series against Chicago White Sox. The series, won by the Reds, led to the uncovering of the "Black Sox" scandal when several Chicago players were shown to have conspired to throw the games.

In the first game of the series, Eller struck out three men in the second inning and three in the third.

NEW RELEASES
CALGARY (CP) — CP — Calgary Stampede of the Western Football Conference announced Tuesday they have released guard Pete Hoskirk from McGill University and halfback Art Ahmann from Vancouver. They were the second and third releases announced by the club since training camp began June 26.

JFK Urged To Follow Up Note With Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Hubert Humphrey urged the Kennedy administration today to follow up its Berlin note with a propaganda offensive on Soviet positions in Eastern Europe and the United Nations.

Humphrey, the assistant Senate Democratic leader from Minnesota, said he has personally urged President Kennedy to co-ordinate allied information services behind a drive for free elections in Iron Curtain countries and against the Russian demand for three-way administration of the United Nations. He described Kennedy as apparently sympathetic to these ideas but said he had received no commitments.

"I think we should take the play away from Premier Khrushchev instead of just reacting to his talk about Berlin," Humphrey said in an interview. "We should broaden the subject to talk about the treaties guaranteeing free elections in Eastern Europe that the Russians have broken."

SHOULD CHAMPION UN

"We have the opportunity to champion the United Nations, which is the only world forum for the newly-developed nations, by attacking Khrushchev's proposal to make it ineffective by substituting a 'troika' system for the director-generalship."

Humphrey said that, to be effective, a propaganda program would have to be co-ordinated among the NATO countries at the same time they were strengthening their military forces to demonstrate that the West means to remain in Berlin even if it has to fight to stay there.

"We don't need a new idea every day. What we need is a simple line that can be put over

Talks On TCA Strike Continue

MONTREAL (CP) — Talks were to continue today between representatives of TCA and the Canadian Air Lines Flight Attendants Association (CLC) in a last ditch attempt to avert a strike called for 12:01 a.m. Friday.

The two groups met with federal mediator Remi Duquette for seven hours Tuesday and adjourned with no indication that the dispute — concerning wage demands of some 650 TCA stewardesses and pursers — was nearing an agreement.

The union is asking that stewardesses and pursers be given extra flying time credit for work on jet and turbo-prop flights because the faster planes mean they must make more trips to build up their flying time credit.

Co-Operation With Japan's Traders Urged

TOKYO (AP) — The president of the Canadian Exporters' Association said today Canada's favorable trade balance with Japan can be reversed in a few years as Canadians learn to accept Japanese products.

He said both countries must stand firm against discriminatory tariffs of regional economic blocs.
